After leadership 'drift' charge, Congress brass gets into action

ADITI PHADNIS
New Delhi, 27 August

At a meeting of the Congress Working Committee (CWC) held last week, party president Sonia Gandhi said that while she was hurt at a letter written by 23 senior leaders charging leadership 'drift,' no action would be taken against them. However, some of the dissenters have dismissed this statement as humbug and said the retaliation had already begun.

"Unfortunate that Jitin Prasada is being officially targeted in UP Congress needs to target the BJP with surgical strikes instead wasting its energy by targeting its own," senior Congress leader Kapil Sibal tweeted. The post came after the district Congress president in Prasada's area, Lakhimpur Kheri, passed a resolution calling him a 'traitor' and sought his expulsion.

Dheeraj Gujjar, the district Congress president claimed he was instructed by an unnamed All India Congress Committee (AICC) general secretary to release the statement.

On Wednesday late evening, Congress general secretary (organisation), KC Venugopal, issued a letter announcing that a five-member committee was being set up to study and align the party's stand on several ordinances. The government would seek to clear those in the forthcoming parliament session.

The members of this committee would be P Chidambaram, Digvijay Singh, Jairam Ramesh, Gaurav Gogoi, and Congress MP from Ludhiana, Dr Amar Singh. Missing were the names of the other two top lawyers: Abishek Singhvi and Manish Tewari — MP from Anandpur Sahib and another signatory to the letter.

"Unfortunate that Jitin Prasada is being officially targeted in UP. Congress needs to target the BJP with surgical strikes instead wasting its energy by targeting its own"
Kapil Sibal, in a tweet

"Sonia Gandhi is ageing and I don't see Priyanka Gandhi in full-time politics. There are many senior leaders in the party, due to whom Rahul Gandhi is not being able to work"
Sanjay Raut, Shiv Sena leader

Although the Congress had said an AICC session would be held in six months in which a new president would be elected, it did not reflect in the CWC resolution. Hence, the dissenting leaders were left puzzled over the resolution's implications, asking whether the election would be held and process completed in six months? Or would it start after six months?

In another interesting development, Shiv Sena mouthpiece Saamna, in an editorial, criticised the Congress dissenters: unusual because Shiv Sena has no locus standi in judging the internal affairs of the Congress party.

Former Maharashtra Chief Minister Prithviraj Chavan – who was one of the architects of the Sena-Congress government and braved extensive opposition to the idea especially from Sonia Gandhi – is a signatory to the letter. Clearly now, he is a target.

Former Union Minister Veerappa Moily, also a signatory, said in a statement, after the CWC meeting, that "it is an admitted fact that organisation of the Congress party is not in a position to take forward the party philosophy and protect the democracy in the present turbulent condition prevailing in the country."

Moily had lost the Chikkaballapur Lok Sabha constituency and was among several senior members of the Congress in Karnataka to have lost the election.

But party rival and SC leader Mallikarjun Kharge succeeded in bagging the Rajya Sabha seat when elections to the upper house were held in June.

Top court clears 'quota within quota' to help disadvantaged communities

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
Delhi, 27 August

In a significant verdict, the Supreme Court on Thursday ruled that its 2004 verdict holding that states do not have the power to further sub-classify the Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes for grant of quotas needed to be revisited by a seven or more judges Bench.

The apex court said states should be allowed to provide preferential treatment to the "poorest of the poor" among SCs and STs and advocated that an "authoritative pronouncement" was needed with respect to the effect of Constitutional provisions and whether sub-classification is permissible only with respect to the socially and educationally backward classes and not with respect to SCs and STs. The top court observed that the benefit of quota by and large is not percolating down to the "neediest and poorest of the poor" and it was "crystal clear" that creamy layer concept for excluding affluent people "can be applied to" SCs and STs. A five-judge constitution bench headed by Justice Arun Mishra said the 2004 verdict of a bench of same strength in the E V Chinnaiah case had held that states cannot give preference to certain Scheduled Castes as it would amount to "tinkering with" the Presidential list of SCs and STs under the Constitution and this required to be relooked.

"Reservation was not contemplated for all the time by the framers of the Constitution. On the one hand, there is no exclusion of those who have come up, on the other hand, if sub-classification is denied, it would defeat right to equality by treating unequal as equal," the top court said. It further said "The State cannot be deprived of the power to take care of the qualitative and quantitative difference between different classes to take ameliorative measures."

GMR group to list airport biz, raises ₹5,000 cr

This will be the first airport company to be listed in Indian stock exchanges.

After the demerger, shares of GPUIL will be allotted to all shareholders of GMR Infra. With that, the existing shareholders of GIL will become shareholders of GPUIL in the same proportion.

The scheme envisages issue of one additional share of ₹5 each of GPUIL for every 10 shares in GIL of Re 1 each as on April 1, 2021.

The standalone listing of the airport business will help the GMR's airport operation which earns 59.5 per cent of the group's total revenue. Separate listing of the airport and non-airport businesses will also help in simplifying the corporate holding structure, the management said.

"Over the years, GIL has grown multi-fold and with various divergent businesses housed under one holding structure. Shareholders have been suggesting to us to offer pure play listed vehicles to ride the growth trajectory of matured and scaled-up infrastructure businesses,'' said Kiran Kumar Grandhi, MD & CEO of GMR Infra, while elaborating on the demerger of the airport and non-airport businesses.

The company had also evaluated a structure which converts the company into three entities--airport, energy and highways.

The GMR group's airport portfolio translates into around 172 million passenger capacity in operation and under development.

This is spread across the country's busiest Indira Gandhi International Airport in New Delhi, Hyderabad's Rajiv Gandhi International Airport, Mactan Cebu International Airport in partnership with Megawide in the Philippines, besides greenfield projects under development such as Mopa in Goa and Heraklion in Crete (Greece) in partnership with GEK Terna.

GMR Airport recently concluded a deal to sell 49 per cent stake to Paris-based Groupe ADP for an equity consideration of ₹10,780 crore including earn-outs. The airport business has been one of the worst hit during the pandemic with footfalls coming to a near halt since the lockdown was announced in March.

The business is recovering slowly after opening up. Indian airlines have struggled to reach 35 per cent of the pre-Covid traffic levels as flyers shun travel due to quarantine measures and fear of catching the infection.

The enabling resolution to raise Rs 5,000 crore is expected to help the company mitigate the impact of the pandemic, company officials said.

Fee discord stokes company-auditor divorces

"There is merit in the argument that auditors now, given the heightened regulatory oversight, have to spend more time and resources to conduct the audit work and thus want a higher fee. We have been tracking the audit fees. Even for many large companies, the audit fee is miniscule compared to their turnover. As such, there is surely scope for upward revision," Haldea added.
